

HANNAH BERNER

Hulu's "Hannah Berner: None of My Business"

Hannah Berner is one of the most influential rising comedians of this generation. She hosts two hit podcasts, "Giggly Squad" alongside Paige DeSorbo and "Berner Phone" with Des Bishop, which have garnered over 100 million combined downloads. Most recently, "Giggly Squad" won the iHeart Radio award for Podcast of the Year. Her video series, "Han on the Street," has earned over 350 million views.

In addition to her regular appearances in the New York comedy scene, Berner was named one of Variety's Top 10 Comics to Watch in 2023. She just finished touring her solo stand-up routine to sold-out theaters across North America. Berner and DeSorbo released their book "How to Giggle: A Guide to Taking Life Less Seriously," which instantly became a New York Times bestseller and debuted at No. 2 in the Advice, How-To & Miscellaneous category.

Berner debuted her first Netflix comedy special, "We Ride at Dawn," which premiered at No. 2 on the platform, and is set to release her new Hulu comedy special, "None of My Business," on June 5. She will soon appear in Netflix's new scripted comedy co-written and headlined by Berner and DeSorbo and produced by Amy Poehler, with Kay Cannon co-writing and serving as showrunner.

Berner is a Brooklyn native and resides in New York City.
