4K Ultra HD Now Streaming on Hulu

As TV and movie lovers ourselves, we want to make sure viewers can watch their favorite shows and movies in the best possible quality. 4K Ultra HD gives content creators a more immersive canvas for their stories. So today, we are excited to announce that Hulu now supports streaming in Ultra HD 4K— just in time for the premiere of our newest original series, Shut Eye. All episodes of Shut Eye will be available to stream on Wednesday, December 7, when you can catch Jeffrey Donovan and Kadee Strickland as they take you into the world of store-front Los Angeles psychics and you learn what it is like to con a con artist. In addition to Shut Eye, you can stream other Hulu Originals including Chance, The Path and 11.22.63 in Ultra HD 4K. Just in time for the holidays, we've also added the entire James Bond movie collection – binge on movies like Spectre, Die Another Day and Golden Eye with a much clearer and higher resolution picture. We have more than 20 James Bond movies available to stream via 4K. We'll continue to add more 4K content over the next year. 4K Ultra HD Streaming is now available for Hulu viewers on the PS4 Pro and the Xbox One S with more devices to come in 2017.
